Volunteering also has many benefits for those giving of their time as well as benefits to their communities. A number of village initiatives though are struggling to recruit and retain volunteers and this has been noted through the community engagement working party. Speaking to members of the carnival committee at the recent pensioners lunch it was mooted that a volunteering table at the carnival may be an opportunity to greater village engagement and active and immediate sign up for volunteer activities. The paper wishes to detail whether such a table should be a Parish Council initiative or undertaken independently.
